MY PORTFOLIO.

I started my coding journey as a self-learner in 2020 during covid.

Being a naturally curious person and having never been exposed to anything IT related, let alone programming, I was encouraged to give programming a go while in lockdown.

My first three projects were Calculator, Etch-A-Sketch and Rock-Paper-Scissors. I was immensely proud of them, they truly solidified and triggered a yearning to become a programmer in the near future.

This website project was coded while being a student at Coder Academy Accelerated Web Dev cohort. This is my first time doing a responsive website and again it brings me deep satisfaction to present this to you.

ABOUT ME.

 Link to resume

My name is Alice and I am currently studying a diploma of Web Dev.

This is a personal step that I finally took after dreaming of it for three years. Coding has reignited my passion for true learning. Most importantly it has taught me that persistence through roadblocks is the magic ingredient. My mindset and my perspective on fear of failing has dramatically changed since being introduced to programming and I am thrilled to continue my learning.

In my personal time, you'll find me obsessively taking pictures of my cat, cooking, watching anime/kdrama/cdrama, attending pilates classes, playing mainly platform games and finding a new hobby to hyper-focus on.
